Kenai Fjords Glacier Lodge: A Wilderness Ecolodge on Alaska's Famed Seacoast
Characterized by plunging fjords, rumbling glaciers and abundant wildlife, Kenai Fjords National Park has long been a favorite destination for Alaska travelers. Alaska Wildland Adventures (AWA) is proud to offer an exclusive way to experience Alaska's spectacular seacoast: Kenai Fjords Glacier Lodge, the only lodge located within the park borders. The lodge embodies the perfect blend of remote wilderness immersion, backcountry adventure and rustically elegant comfort. Summer 2017, we invite you to immerse yourself in the wild delights of Kenai Fjords Glacier Lodge.

With Only 16 Cabins Surrounded by a 1,700 Acre Wildlife Sanctuary, it's Safe to Assume Guests Will Find Plenty of "Me-Time"
Tucked along the shore of Pedersen Lagoon, private guest cabins ensure modern-day creature comforts in this pristine setting, complete with on-demand heat and electricity as well as private baths. The main lodge features a comfortable guest lounge, naturalist library and dining room, coupled with breathtaking views of Pedersen Glacier. As with all AWA locations, wilderness fine dining is a highlight at the lodge.

Built to Celebrate and Respect Kenai Fjords National Park
The unique location of Kenai Fjords Glacier Lodge offers guests an unparalleled vantage point of Kenai Fjords National Park. A stay at the lodge begins with a marine wildlife and glacier cruise; departing from the charming town of Seward, guests tour the dramatic coastline and massive glaciers, seeking out whales, Dall's porpoises, Steller sea lions, harbor seals, sea otters, puffins and more along the way. Upon arrival, a short walk (or ride) leads to the lodge and cabins, each built with sensitivity to the surrounding environment. The lodge and guest cabins reside within the Native-owned, 1,700+ acre Pedersen Lagoon Wildlife Sanctuary. These heritage lands, owned by Port Graham Corporation (PGC), an Alaska Native Village Corporation, represent a small portion of the ancestral homeland of the Alutiiq people that once lived along and roamed the entire coast of Southcentral Alaska. Lodge activities emphasize appreciative exploration of the park; guests may choose from guided sea kayaking, guided or unguided explorations on foot, taking part in naturalist programs or simply strolling along the miles of pristine beachfront.
